Subject: Buddha Darya & Satluj Cry for Justice – Punjab's Water Emergency

Respected Hon'ble Sir,

With utmost respect, we on behalf of the PAC-Public Action Committee (Regd.) Mattewara Jungles, River Satluj, and Buddha Darya, Ludhiana, wish to draw your kind attention to one of North India's most serious environmental and public health emergencies — the persistent and large-scale pollution of Buddha Darya and the consequential contamination of River Satluj.

For several years, PAC has been deeply engaged in addressing issues of environmental degradation, with focused work on:

- ✓ Pollution of Buddha Darya and its direct and cumulative impact on River Satluj
- ✓ Contamination of subsoil water across Ludhiana, Punjab, and downstream regions of Rajasthan
- ✓ Preservation, protection, and expansion of Mattewara Jungles
- ✓ Promotion of ecological sustainability and long-term Green Growth

Despite repeated representations and administrative efforts, the crisis remains unresolved and continues to endanger the lives, livelihoods, and health of lakhs of citizens who depend on Satluj waters and groundwater for drinking, agriculture, and daily use.

The unchecked inflow of untreated industrial effluents, toxic chemicals, acids, dyes, sludge, and heavy metals into Buddha Darya has critically impaired the river system. This contamination ultimately merges with the Satluj, resulting in severe ecological damage, public health distress, and degradation of downstream water sources extending up to Rajasthan.

To bring clarity to the situation and offer actionable solutions, PAC has prepared a comprehensive White Paper titled "Buddha Darya & Satluj Cry for Justice – Punjab's Water Emergency." A hard copy of this document is being submitted for your kind consideration. The White Paper includes:

- Ground realities based on field surveys
- Scientific assessments
- Impacts on health and environment
- Analysis of institutional and administrative gaps
- Practical, time-bound recommendations for immediate and long-term action

It is submitted that the matter is also pending before the Hon'ble National Green Tribunal (NGT) for a very long time without final resolution, while the affected population continues to suffer daily consequences.

Given the scale, urgency, and interstate implications of this crisis, we earnestly request your kind intervention to facilitate a coordinated, time-bound, and multi-agency response for the rejuvenation of Buddha Darya and Satluj. Your guidance can help safeguard millions of lives and restore ecological balance across Punjab and Rajasthan.

We respectfully appeal to you to consider this issue as a matter of national importance—central to public health, environmental justice, and intergenerational equity.

PAC assures full cooperation, field support, and community participation in all efforts aimed at securing sustainable, clean, and green development for our region.

We remain hopeful that with your compassionate leadership, this long-pending and critical issue will receive the urgent attention it truly deserves.

With deepest respect and sincere regards,

Sincerely,

With utmost respect, we on behalf of the PAC-Public Action Committee (Regd.) Mattewara Jungles, River Satluj, and Buddha Darya, Ludhiana, wish to draw your kind attention to one of North India's most serious environmental and public health emergencies — the persistent and large-scale pollution of Buddha Darya and the consequential contamination of River Satluj.

For several years, PAC has been deeply engaged in addressing issues of environmental degradation, with focused work on:

- ✓ Pollution of Buddha Darya and its direct and cumulative impact on River Satluj
- ✓ Contamination of subsoil water across Ludhiana, Punjab, and downstream regions of Rajasthan
- ✓ Preservation, protection, and expansion of Mattewara Jungles
- ✓ Promotion of ecological sustainability and long-term Green Growth

Despite repeated representations and administrative efforts, the crisis remains unresolved and continues to endanger the lives, livelihoods, and health of lakhs of citizens who depend on Satluj waters and groundwater for drinking, agriculture, and daily use.

The unchecked inflow of untreated industrial effluents, toxic chemicals, acids, dyes, sludge, and heavy metals into Buddha Darya has critically impaired the river system. This contamination ultimately merges with the Satluj, resulting in severe ecological damage, public health distress, and degradation of downstream water sources extending up to Rajasthan.

To bring clarity to the situation and offer actionable solutions, PAC has prepared a comprehensive White Paper titled "Buddha Darya & Satluj Cry for Justice – Punjab's Water Emergency." A hard copy of this document is being submitted for your kind consideration. The White Paper includes:

- Ground realities based on field surveys
- Scientific assessments
- Impacts on health and environment
- A analysis of institutional and administrative gaps
- Practical, time-bound recommendations for immediate and long-term action

It is submitted that the matter is also pending before the Hon'ble National Green Tribunal (NGT) for a very long time without final resolution, while the affected population continues to suffer daily consequences.

Given the scale, urgency, and interstate implications of this crisis, we earnestly request your kind intervention to facilitate a coordinated, time-bound, and multi-agency response for the rejuvenation of Buddha Darya and Satluj. Your guidance can help safeguard millions of lives and restore ecological balance across Punjab and Rajasthan.

We respectfully appeal to you to consider this issue as a matter of national importance—central to public health, environmental justice, and intergenerational equity.

PAC assures full cooperation, field support, and community participation in all efforts aimed at securing sustainable, clean, and green development for our region.

We remain hopeful that with your compassionate leadership, this long-pending and critical issue will receive the urgent attention it truly deserves.

Mattewara Jungles, River Satluj, and Buddha Darya, Ludhiana, wish to draw your kind attention to one of North India's most serious environmental and public health emergencies — the persistent and large-scale pollution of Buddha Darya and the consequential contamination of River Satluj.

For several years, PAC has been deeply engaged in addressing issues of environmental degradation, with focused work on:

- ✓ Pollution of Buddha Darya and its direct and cumulative impact on River Satluj
- ✓ Contamination of subsoil water across Ludhiana, Punjab, and downstream regions of Rajasthan
- ✓ Preservation, protection, and expansion of Mattewara Jungles
- ✓ Promotion of ecological sustainability and long-term Green Growth

Despite repeated representations and administrative efforts, the crisis remains unresolved and continues to endanger the lives, livelihoods, and health of lakhs of citizens who depend on Satluj waters and groundwater for drinking, agriculture, and daily use.

The unchecked inflow of untreated industrial effluents, toxic chemicals, acids, dyes, sludge, and heavy metals into Buddha Darya has critically impaired the river system. This contamination ultimately merges with the Satluj, resulting in severe ecological damage, public health distress, and degradation of downstream water sources extending up to Rajasthan.

To bring clarity to the situation and offer actionable solutions, PAC has prepared a comprehensive White Paper titled "Buddha Darya & Satluj Cry for Justice – Punjab's Water Emergency." A hard copy of this document is being submitted for your kind consideration. The White Paper includes:

- Ground realities based on field surveys
- Scientific assessments
- Impacts on health and environment
- Analysis of institutional and administrative gaps
- Practical, time-bound recommendations for immediate and long-term action

It is submitted that the matter is also pending before the Hon'ble National Green Tribunal (NGT) for a very long time without final resolution, while the affected population continues to suffer daily consequences.

Given the scale, urgency, and interstate implications of this crisis, we earnestly request your kind intervention to facilitate a coordinated, time-bound, and multi-agency response for the rejuvenation of Buddha Darya and Satluj. Your guidance can help safeguard millions of lives and restore ecological balance across Punjab and Rajasthan.

We respectfully appeal to you to consider this issue as a matter of national importance—central to public health, environmental justice, and intergenerational equity.

PAC assures full cooperation, field support, and community participation in all efforts aimed at securing sustainable, clean, and green development for our region.

We remain hopeful that with your compassionate leadership, this long-pending and critical issue will receive the urgent attention it truly deserves.

To bring clarity to the situation and offer actionable solutions, PAC has prepared a comprehensive White Paper titled "Buddha Darya & Satluj Cry for Justice – Punjab's Water Emergency." A hard copy of this document is being submitted for your kind consideration. The White Paper includes:

- Ground realities based on field surveys
- Scientific assessments
- Impacts on health and environment
- Analysis of institutional and administrative gaps
- Practical, time-bound recommendations for immediate and long-term action

It is submitted that the matter is also pending before the Hon'ble National Green Tribunal (NGT) for a very long time without final resolution, while the affected population continues to suffer daily consequences.

Given the scale, urgency, and interstate implications of this crisis, we earnestly request your kind intervention to facilitate a coordinated, time-bound, and multi-agency response for the rejuvenation of Buddha Darya and Satluj. Your guidance can help safeguard millions of lives and restore ecological balance across Punjab and Rajasthan.

We respectfully appeal to you to consider this issue as a matter of national importance—central to public health, environmental justice, and intergenerational equity.

PAC assures full cooperation, field support, and community participation in all efforts aimed at securing sustainable, clean, and green development for our region.

We remain hopeful that with your compassionate leadership, this long-pending and critical issue will receive the urgent attention it truly deserves.

With deepest respect and sincere regards,

Sincerely,

Col CM Lakharpal

Subject: Buddha Darya & Satluj Cry for Justice – Punjab's Water Emergency

Respected Hon'ble President Smt Droupadi Murmu Ji,

With utmost respect, we on behalf of the PAC-Public Action Committee (Regd.) Mattewara Jungles, River Satluj, and Buddha Darya, Ludhiana, wish to draw your kind attention to one of North India's most serious environmental and public health emergencies — the persistent and large-scale pollution of Buddha Darya and the consequential contamination of River Satluj.

For several years, PAC has been deeply engaged in addressing issues of environmental degradation, with focused work on:

- ✓ Pollution of Buddha Darya and its direct and cumulative impact on River Satluj
- ✓ Contamination of subsoil water across Ludhiana, Punjab, and downstream regions of Rajasthan
- ✓ Preservation, protection, and expansion of Mattewara Jungles
- ✓ Promotion of ecological sustainability and long-term Green Growth

Despite repeated representations and administrative efforts, the crisis remains unresolved and continues to endanger the lives, livelihoods, and health of lakhs of citizens who depend on Satluj waters and groundwater for drinking, agriculture, and daily use.

The unchecked inflow of untreated industrial effluents, toxic chemicals, acids, dyes, sludge, and heavy metals into Buddha Darya has critically impaired the river system. This contamination ultimately merges with the Satluj, resulting in severe ecological damage, public health distress, and degradation of downstream water sources extending up to Rajasthan.

Subject: Buddha Darya & Satluj Cry for Justice – Punjab's Water Emergency

Respected Hon'ble Sir,

With utmost respect, we on behalf of the PAC-Public Action Committee (Regd.) Mattewara Jungles, River Satluj, and Buddha Darya, Ludhiana, wish to draw your kind attention to one of North India's most serious environmental and public health emergencies — the persistent and large-scale pollution of Buddha Darya and the consequential contamination of River Satluj.

For several years, PAC has been deeply engaged in addressing issues of environmental degradation, with focused work on:

- ✓ Pollution of Buddha Darya and its direct and cumulative impact on River Satluj
- ✓ Contamination of subsoil water across Ludhiana, Punjab, and downstream regions of Rajasthan
- ✓ Preservation, protection, and expansion of Mattewara Jungles
- ✓ Promotion of ecological sustainability and long-term Green Growth

Despite repeated representations and administrative efforts, the crisis remains unresolved and continues to endanger the lives, livelihoods, and health of lakhs of citizens who depend on Satluj waters and groundwater for drinking, agriculture, and daily use.

The unchecked inflow of untreated industrial effluents, toxic chemicals, acids, dyes, sludge, and heavy metals into Buddha Darya has critically impaired the river system. This contamination ultimately merges with the Satluj, resulting in severe ecological damage, public health distress, and degradation of downstream water sources extending up to Rajasthan.
